

www.LA3.com.au

SPECIES	Hibbertia scandens
COMMON NAME	Snake Vine, Climbing Guinea Flower, Golden Guinea Vine
ORIGIN	Australia
DESIGN USE	Attracts birds to garden

HEIGHT

SPREAD

2-5M

HABIT

Vigorous climber or scrambler

FORM

FLOWERS

Yellow flowers that are about 6 cm across

FLOWERING PERIOD

Occur throughout the year most commonly seen in late Spring and Summer

CLIMATIC TOLERANCES

It readily grows in semi-shaded areas, it flowers best in full sun but will also grow successfully in semi-shaded areas; will tolerate a wide range of climates, including exposure to salt-laden winds (this reflects where it is found in the wild)

HORTICULTURE

This species is commonly cultivated, and adapts to a wide range of growing conditions. Seeds can be slow and difficult to germinate.

REFERENCES

http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Hibbertia_scandens

<http://asgap.org.au/h-sca.html>

